Plaintiff,

CASE NO. 1:01-CV-786

v.

JOHN M. ORTENZIO

Defendant.

J. Rambo

FILE[MAR 2 6 2002

DEFENDANT'S ANSWER IN OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR LEAVE TO INTRODUCE REBUTTAL EXPERT TESTIMONY DURING CASE IN CHIEF

Defendant, by his undersigned counsel, answers and opposes Plaintiff's motion as follows:

INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff seeks to introduce rebuttal expert testimony during its case in chief.

While plaintiff's motion alleges various irrelevancies regarding confusion over the taking of depositions of the experts, the only real issue is whether the plaintiff should be excused for failing to comply with the Court's Case Management Order which, in essence, required the plaintiff to file and serve its expert report almost three (3) months ago, i.e., on or before January 4, 2002. Since plaintiff failed to comply with this Court's mandate, and fails to even attempt to provide any excuse for such non-compliance, the plaintiff's motion should be denied. By way of further answer, defendant avers as follows:

1-4. Admitted.

- 5. Admitted, except that defendant's counsel consciously elected not to depose plaintiff's expert.
- 6. Denied. On the contrary, defendant's counsel consciously and intentionally elected not to depose plaintiff's expert. At all relevant times, defendant's counsel made his expert available for deposition.
- 7. Defendant avers that plaintiff's belief regarding the effectiveness of its expert's testimony is, indeed, irrelevant. The simple fact is that plaintiff failed to timely file and serve his expert report, as required by the Case Management Order, and plaintiff fails to even attempt to provide an excuse for such failure.
- 8. It is admitted that defendant has been given disclosure of plaintiff's expert's opinions and has had a full opportunity to depose plaintiff's expert. However, defendant is, indeed, surprised by plaintiff's belated request to introduce expert testimony during plaintiff's case in chief and, indeed, would be prejudiced if plaintiff is excused from non-compliance with this Court's Case Management Order.

Q That's why I'm confused. You say it would be invested. But it's my understanding, correct me if I am wrong, that if there were excess funds in that account, it would be deducted from any balance owed on the $4 million line of credit first?

A I think you're misinterpreting what I'm saying. In the total picture, if, in the $4 million at the end of the day if we got deposits in of $5 million, therefore, we had an extra million, that would be invested.

If you're just looking at the deposits for the day, it's applied against the line of credit. But what I'm saying when I say that if there's an overage amount, if our credit goes to zero, that it would be invested.

Q That's what I thought. The investment part of this transaction only occurs when there is nothing due on the $4 million line of credit --

22 That's correct. A

23 Q -- and the balance is zero?

24 A That's correct.

Q Otherwise, any moneys deposited in the

Q Were the principal payments for the equipment note paid by CCI checks; or were they automatically deducted by the bank, by the checking accounts, or none of the above?

71

A I don't recall if we were making -- I'm just trying to remember if we made principal payments or if we were making interest-only payments.

Q I will represent to you that I think it's correct that there were principal payments on the $2 million note.

A If we were making principal payments -- I think they were; I just don't recall exactly -- if we were making principal payments, they would be handled the same way.

0 Which would be checks?

Which would be checks.

And that would reduce the availability on the $4 million line?

A That's correct.

How about interest payments on the $1.2 20 million note? How were they paid, by checks or 21

A As I recall --

> Q -- or none of the above?

25 As I recall, they were paid by check.

checking account which would constitute a surplus would be used to reduce the $4 million line of credit?

A That's correct.

Q Now, if interest payments are paid on the equipment note, that would have an impact on the $4 million line of credit, would it not?

A Yes, it would.

Q And what would that impact be?

It would draw on the line of credit.

Q How about principal payments on the equipment note? How are they paid?

In the same fashion.

And that would also have the same impact on the $4 million line of credit?

A Yes, it would.

Q Okay. By the way, principal payments, were they by checks or were they swept automatically by the bank?

20 MR. GEBHARDT: Objection. Using -- I don't 21 know if you're using the term swept in a consistent 22

MR. SWICHAR: I'll rephase it. Fair

24 objection. 25

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q And am I correct in saying, like the 1 equipment note payments, those payments would have 2 the effect of increasing the balance on the $4 3 4 million line of credit? 5

A Yes.

Now, Ms. Phillips, were you present at the table when the -- bank table when the $1.2 million note and related surety were signed and provided to the bank? Were you there?

I don't recall if we actually got together to sign it or if we got the loan documents, reviewed them, signed them, and gave them to Craig Schwartz.

Did you have discussions with Mr. Schwartz regarding the revisions that were made on the changes that were made to the $1.2 million note and surety? You can look at them to refresh your recollection.

A I don't recall if I did. In prior loans, I can honestly say that I had spoken to Craig Schwartz. In this loan, John was very involved; so I don't recall if I specifically talked to them or if John did. This one was a little different.

Q If my notes are correct and the other 22 lawyers will account if they're not correct, you 23 testified you had discussions regarding how the $1.2 million note would be repaid.

Exh.A

I believe you testified that it was anticipated that CCI would repay the 1.2 million from cash flow that was projected if the projections held true. Is that a fair statement?

A That's correct.

Q Now, with whom did you have those discussions -- Mr. Ortenzio, the bank, or both?

 ${\bf A}$ I definitely had the discussions with John; and as I recall, we had those same discussions with the bank also.

Q Am I correct in stating that the projections that CCI was relying upon turned out not to come to fruition?

A That's correct.

Q When the $1.2 million note and related surety was signed, did you believe those projections to be capable of being fulfilled based on your financial experience with the company?

A As I said, I had concerns; and when I had talked to John about those projections, I said those were based on what operations were projected for the loss or profits on each of those jobs. I had pointed out at that time that those profits and/or losses, they were decreasing throughout the year.

Q Well, did you tell the bank at any time the note to be repaid from projected cash flow? When did that occur?

A That's what I'm saying, I think -- I can't guarantee that that discussion occurred with the bank as to how we were paying it back. I know that John and I discussed it. I think that that was in -- it may have been part of the discussion with the bank, but I can't recall that part. I can't recall exactly.

Q You may have told the bank or there may have been discussions with the bank at which you were present that projected cash flow would be the source of repayment.

I'm trying to find out whether or not you have an actual recollection of that statement being given to the bank by you or by Mr. Ortenzio in your presence.

A And that's where I'm saying I just don't have an exact recollection of that part of the conversation.

Q Do you recall the bank ever requesting CCI through you or Mr. Ortenzio including a provision in the $1.2 million note which would have required the repayment to come from projected cash flow?

A Say that again.

that you didn't expect the projections to be accurate?

MS. JOYCE: Object to the form of the question. You can answer.

THE WITNESS: Say it again.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q Did you ever tell the bank at or about the time the $1.2 million note was signed that you didn't expect those projections that were going to be the source of the payment to be accurate and true?

A I didn't say they weren't accurate or true. What I said is -- when I gave them to John, I said, this is what I've been given by operations. Operations, in the past, has shown the profits on the jobs decreasing; but as of that point in time, information I gave to him, I said, that's the best that I can do.

Q Did you believe those projections that operations provided to you to be true and correct as far as projections can go?

A I believed at that time that they were given as true as they could project, yes.

Q When did you have discussions with the bank regarding the $1.2 million note where you said that there were discussions that you had that you expected

Q Would you -- do you have any recollection of the bank ever stating to CCI, either to you or Mr. Ortenzio, that it wanted to include a provision in the $1.2 million note that it could only be repaid from projected excess cash flow?

A I don't recall that, no.

Q Do you recall the bank ever requesting a provision in the $1.2 million note which prohibited -- which would have prohibited the repayment from the $4 million line of credit?

A I do not recall any conversation with the bank of making a payment from the $4 million line of credit one way or the other.

Q One way or the other?

A Yeah.

Q Now, you've seen from the commitment letters that the $4 million note was due on April 30th of 2000; and the $1.2 million note was due one month earlier on March 31st, 2000.

I'm not going to have this remarked, but it originally was Schwartz 6, if everyone agrees, which appears to be an Allfirst memorandum dated November 2, 1999.

Just to put this in the proper context, Ms. Phillips, if you look at Phillips 5, which you have in front of you, it's dated -- Schwartz 6 is dated two days earlier.

ARCHIVE REPORTING SERVICE (717) 234-5922

A Okay.

Q Now, this Schwartz 6 indicates that the bank initially contemplated increasing the $4 million line to 5 million. Do you see that?

A I do.

Q And the $1 million increase would expire on February 28th, 2000. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And it also indicates that Mr. Ortenzio would guarantee the entire $5 million line of credit. Do you see that?

A I see that.

Q Do you recall any discussions that you participated in in the bank, with the bank where Mr. Ortenzio was requested to guarantee the $5 million line as reflected in Schwartz 6?

A I don't remember this document.

Q In fairness to you, you may never have seen this. I don't know. I'm only showing you this to refresh your recollection.

MS. JOYCE: Your question to this was --MR. SWICHAR: I'll rephrase it since you 25 made me forget what the question was.

1 31, 2000?

A I don't know if this was something that John talked to them about previously. I just don't remember.

Q Fair enough. If you turn to your Exhibit 5, which is the Schwartz memo of 11/4/99, and that refers to a meeting that you did attend with Mr. Ortenzio and Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Zarcone.

You'll notice that in the second paragraph, it states that the 1.2 million would be done on a temporary basis. Was that consistent with your understanding of the $1.2 million note?

 \mathbf{A} Yes.

14 Q In contrast with the $4 million line of 15 credit which was longer term?

A I understood the $4 million to be a year.

A I understood the $4 million to be a year; and as I said, we normally renewed it each year. Yes, this was definitely considered short term.

Q A one-time note?

20 A Yes.

Q It also states that CCI would get an additional 500,000 from private sources. Do you recall any discussions about that?

24 MS. JOYCE: It, referring to Deposition 25 Exhibit No. 5, so the record is clear?

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q Do you recall how the changes reflected in the earlier document evolved into what ultimately became -- strike that.

Do you recall any discussions with the bank that reflected a transaction -- the transaction in Schwartz 6, in other words, a $5 million note fully guaranteed by Mr. Ortenzio to expire on February 28, 2000?

A I don't recall that part of the discussion, but I do know that John never agreed to guarantee the whole 5 million or the 4 million that we already had in place that was already in place.

Q Do you recall the bank requesting Mr. Ortenzio to guarantee the full 5 million?

A I don't

Q Do you recall that Mr. Ortenzio had initially requested a $1 million loan in contrast to a 1.2 million?

A No. I just don't recall. I'm looking at the difference in the two, but I don't recall this.

Q Do you recall Mr. Ortenzio, on behalf of CCI, requesting that the 1 million or $1.2 million note initially expired on February 28, 2000, in

25 contrast to what ultimately turned out to be March

1 MR. SWICHAR Ye

MR. SWICHAR: Yes. Thank you. THE WITNESS: No, I don't recall that.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q Do you recall any discussions with the bank stating that it expected the $4 million line of credit to be repaid before the 1.2 million?

A No.

Q Do you recall any discussions with the bank that it expected the $4 million line of credit to reach a zero balance before the $1.2 million line of credit could be repaid?

A No.

Q Now, we agree that the $1.2 million loan was a short-term note?

A Yes.

Q And we agree that Mr. Ortenzio as you stated earlier told you specifically that he wanted the $1.2 million to be a short-term note?

A Yes, I do.

Q And at the time it was repaid by CCI on February 11, 2000, there was no indication that there was any pending request to the bank to extend the $1.2 million note, was there?

A It didn't expire until March. I'm not sure I understand your question.

And was there any indication as of February 11. 2000 -- there was no indication from the bank that it had intended to extend the $1.2 million note --

Q And he said that he expected the bonding companies to cooperate in that fashion?

A I don't know that he expected it from them, but he was going to talk to them about that.

Q And as of the time you had the meeting with Mr. Ortenzio prior to the February 18 meeting with the bank, wasn't it indicated to you through Mr. Ortenzio that it was his primary intention to keep his company operating by getting funds from the bonding companies until such time as the money from the jobs came in?

A We had doubts about whether he wanted to keep the company operating.

16 Q What was his primary goal, to get money? 17 MR. GEBHARDT: Objection. His primary goal 18 for what?

Yes.

Now, you testified about your discussions that you had with Mr. Ortenzio prior to the bank meeting on February 18, 2000.

Am I correct in stating that Mr. Ortenzio advised you that he did intend to go to the bonding companies for financial help until moneys came in from the Scott Air Force Base and other jobs?

A Yes, that's correct.

Q And there was a discussion about -- do you recall -- if I recall correctly, you testified that -- strike that.

Did Mr. Ortenzio ever state to you that bankruptcy was an alternative prior to the meeting with the bank or did he not or you had no recollection?

A We discussed bankruptcy prior to that.

Q And was it Mr. Ortenzio's primary goal first to go to the bonding companies and ask for financial help until the Scott Air Force Base money came in?

A That's what I recall.

Did Mr. Ortenzio tell you that the bonding companies would have to come up with the money until the moneys came in from the Scott Air Force Base and 1 goal was.

Q Based on your discussions with him?

At that time, we had serious concerns as to whether he did want to keep the company alive.

Do you recall on a certain date the bank freezing the bank accounts of CCI?

A Yes, I do.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Do you recall when that occurred? Q

Without looking back, I think it happened 10 -- actually, we found out on a Wednesday; but I think 11 it was actually frozen on a Tuesday night. 12 13

If I recall, based on the dates we've been given here, I was thinking that it would be the Wednesday after the 18th meeting.

Q A few days after the February 18th meeting?

A

Was there any warning by the bank that it was going to freeze the accounts?

A. Not to me.

21 What was the nature of the checks -- I'm Q 22 sorry. As a result of the bank freezing CCI's 23 checking account, were checks returned? 24

A Yes.

A My -- I don't recall the actual payroll numbers.

Q Do you recall the number -- I'm sorry. Do you recall the number of employees who didn't receive their paychecks as a result of the bank freezing the account?

A The number, no; but it was significant. I just don't recall the number. We had -- the reason I'm not recalling is because we had started laying people off so the numbers were changing as people were being laid off, the payroll numbers were getting lower in that time period. I don't remember how many we had left, but it was a significant number.

Q Well, significant number -- let me try to bring you down. Over a hundred?

A I would say probably over a hundred.

Q I don't mean to play games. Bigger than a breadbasket? Between 150 and 200?

A I can't recall.

Q Is a hundred your best guess? MS. JOYCE: Best estimate, because if it's a guess, I'm not going to allow her to guess. BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q Is that your best estimate? If you can't, you can't. I just want a general idea. Over a hundred?

A I would say over a hundred.

Now, the $1.2 million note was repaid from the $4 million line of credit on February 11, 2000. We agree on that.

At any time, did the bank ever come to you as CFO and ask CCI to sign a document that would have precluded payment from the $4 million line of credit?

Not that I recall.

As CFO, did the bank ever demand any agreement from CCI that would make the $4 million line of credit a prohibited source of funds to repay the $1.2 million note?

MR. GEBHARDT: Objection.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q You can answer.

No.

Now, when the bank lent the 1.2 million, changing thoughts now, there was a point in time when the bank lent CCI the $1.2 million in funds. That money was deposited in CCI's checking account; is that correct?

87

A That's correct.

Q And that was the same checking account that was tied into the cash management facility; is that correct?

A That's correct.

And that had the impact of increasing the availability on the $4 million line of credit by $1.2 14 million; is that correct?

A That's correct.

And similarly it had had the impact of decreasing the loan balance on the $4 million line of credit: is that correct?

A That's correct.

Now, let's move ahead in time. When the $1.2 million loan was repaid by drawing on the $4 million line, a check was drawn on the checking account: is that correct?

A When the 1.2 --

Q Was repaid -- we're now moving ahead to February 11th. The $1.2 million loan was repaid by a CCI check: is that correct --

A That's correct.

Q -- from the same checking account that we just spoke of; is that correct?

A That's correct.

And that had the impact of increasing the balance on the $4 million line of credit: is that correct?

A That's correct.

And since you're a CFO, I'll ask you this question: The repayment of the $1.2 million note had the effect of reversing what occurred months earlier when the 1.2 million was first lent to CCI with respect to the $4 million line of credit?

That's correct.

Now, did the bank, in any fashion, monitor CCI's use of the $4 million known proceeds? Would they ask you daily or weekly, what are you doing with our money?

A We were required to give them reports. It's in the documents here, if I looked at them; but we had to give them an income statement, balance sheet, accounts receivable, aging work in progress.

Q Do you have any reason to believe -- strike that.

Did you have any reason to believe back in the year 2000 that Mr. Schwartz knew the source of the repayment of the $1.2 million note?

MR. GEBHARDT: Objection.

MS. JOYCE: Same objection. You're asking for beliefs. If she has concrete knowledge, she's here to tell you that. Whether or not she believed or didn't believe is not relevant.

MR. SWICHAR: I don't think it's for you to decide what's relevant. I think that's for the court. But be that as it may, I'm entitled to her belief. That's a very fair question.

MR. GEBHARDT: She's not -- she doesn't know what is in that man's head.

MS. JOYCE: Exactly.

MR. SWICHAR: Well, that's my next question. Don't anticipate the next question. I'm not asking her if she was able to read Mr. Schwartz's mind. I'll ask it a different way.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q As of the time you were at CCI after February 11, 2000, until the date that you left, were you aware of any facts which led you to believe that Mr. Schwartz was aware of the source of the repayment of the $1.2 million note?

A Yes.

Q Of what facts are you aware?

A Any time after February 11th. I don't know exactly when he found that out; but at some point after that, I know that he was aware of it.

 $\ensuremath{\mathsf{MR}}.$ GEBHARDT: The whole bank found out at that, for God's sake.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q How did you become aware that Mr. Schwartz was aware of the source of repayment?

They were asking questions about the

A At what point in time?
MR. GEBHARDT: She knows today, for instance.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q In February of 2000 and thereafter.

MS. JOYCE: Well, I think you have to limit it between February of 2000. I don't mean to be obstruct, Mr. Swichar; but --

MR. SWICHAR: Well, you are.

MS. JOYCE: Well, no, I'm not, because your question is not fair to this witness. She left that company in May of 2000, and her testimony gave you that factual piece of information.

MR. SWICHAR: I'll rephrase the question.

MS. JOYCE: I would like to finish my objection so we have a clear record for the court.

MR. SWICHAR: Go ahead, but don't accuse me of misleading the witness. I'll clarify it; but if you want to give a speech, go ahead.

MS. JOYCE: The witness's testimony was that she left the company in May of 2000. Your question to her was unfair in the sense that it was open-ended and asked from any time from February of 2000 to the present what Mr. Schwartz did or did not know. That's the basis for my objection.

collateral, and I had given them some information regarding the collateral. At that time, they were aware of it; but I don't recall the date of that meeting. It was definitely after February 18th; but I -- as I recall, it was sometime in the next week. I don't recall of an exact time he showed up in his office.

Q Thanks. Let's focus on the Scott Air Force claim which was, how much, 4 million?

A Over 4 million.

Q What was your understanding of that claim?

A My understanding of it was that there was a meeting that was held during the time the Persian Gulf War was occurring where there were people -- I was not in attendance, but there were people from CCI at a meeting. There was a general there.

We were told that Scott Air Force Base was going to be the premier Air Force Base to be used for the hub for the war. They needed to accelerate the project. If we did not accelerate the project, they would have to default us on our contract.

If we did go forward on it, we would have to eat the cost and put it in as a change order or claim at the end when we finished the job. We were worried at that time of the effect of having it on

And did you believe -- strike that. You're familiar to a certain extent with the Albemarle Prison claim of $2 and a half million?

I'm familiar there was a claim, ves.

A Yes. From everything our chief operating officer told me, I would say yes.

Q And is it fair to say that as of February 18th, 2000, you believed to the extent you could from information you had obtained that such claims were valid, the Scott Air Force Base and the Albemarle Prison claim?

Yes, that's correct.

MR. SWICHAR: If I could have a minute with my client, that may be my last question. If I may just ask one more question.

BY MR. SWICHAR:

Q I want to get back to the situation where the bank froze CCI's account. Were there situations where the bank had clear checks of CCI but then reversed those clearings?

A Yes, there were.

Q Tell me what that is about.

A We had -- in my computer system, I had a tie-in to Allfirst that would show the activity in our accounts. I could see what was going through there on a daily basis.

I had seen the checks that had cleared, and we started seeing -- I could see it on our reports that it was taken out of our account as a clear check, and then I started seeing it going back as though it didn't clear.

I started seeing those reports. I said,

17 probably prepared prior to that. 18

Do you recall those payees?

MS. JOYCE: Of which the checks were reversed you mean?

MR. SWICHAR: Yeah.

THE WITNESS: Again, it was any check that we had written. It was employees. It was vendors. It was subcontractors. It was utility payments.

Q Do you recall if one check was to the IRS?

I recall several checks that had to do with payroll-type issues. I don't if it was IRS. I think there was unemployment. I don't remember exactly what it was, but there were payroll-type of issues.

It could have been the IRS. In fact, as I'm speaking about it, Wednesday usually was the day that we did that through a funds transfer. So that probably was one.

23 A Yes.

How about Cleveland Brothers? Was that 24 another check that was honored and then reversed?
